

BONDS BY THE BALE ARE TO BE ISSUED

CABINET DECIDES TO FLOAT AS MANY AS POSSIBLE.

The Bureau of Engraving Have Orders To Print Five Hundred Million Dollars Worth of Gold Four Per Cent—The Administration Currency Bill Reported.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—At the cabinet meeting this morning it was decided to push negotiations for as many bonds as can be floated. The bureau of engraving has received orders to print five hundred millions in gold four per cent bonds. In the house, Mr. Springer reported the administration banking bill with the amendments agreed upon in the committee meeting. A haze of uncertainty surrounds the fate of this bill in the house. Representative Walker (Mass.) will offer in the house his amendment for three different classes of short term bonds which failed in the committee. Representative Hagen of the banking committee will propose an amendment to reduce to $25,000 the capital necessary to establish a national bank. The ul es committee has not yet considered the matter of time. Doubtless the bill will be the order for Monday and Chairman Springer thinks two days will suffice for debate.

The minority bill, based upon the Carlisle currency bill, which will be reported to the house, repeals the law requiring a deposit of bonds as a gold basis for the issue of national banks, and allows in its stead a deposit by banks hereafter organized of legal tenders or treasury notes to the amount of 30 per cent of their circulation. A tax of one half of 1 per cent on circulation is fixed, and national banks are required to redeem their own notes at par.

Sec. 5 provides for the safety fund of 5 per cent to be used for the final redemption of failed national bank notes. Sec. 6 authorizes the secretary of the treasury to invest any money in safety funds in United States bonds.

Sec. 9 provides for the retirement of legal tenders and treasury notes of less than $10. Sec. 10 requires banks to keep not less than half of their reserve in legal tenders or treasury notes. Sec. 11 provides for issuing of notes canceled silver or silver certificates, and the coining of the silver bullion in the treasury.

Sec. 12 authorizes the secretary of the treasury to require any part of the customs duties or duties on imports to be paid in United States legal tender notes or treasury notes.

Sec. 13 authorizes a bond issue under the act of Jan. 14, 1875, to protect the reserve.

Sec. 14 has the Carlisle provisions in regard to state banks, but exempting from the 10 per cent tax only notes of a denomination above $10.

FOR FINANCIAL INFORMATION.

Senate Passes Resolutions Under Which Carlisle Must Tell All.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—In the senate yesterday the resolution of Mr. Allen (rep., Neb.) requiring the secretary of the treasury to redeem government obligations in silver as often as he is convinced a systematic effort is being made to deplete the gold reserve and force an issue of bonds was taken up. Mr. Allen said he wanted to call public attention to the action of the secretary of the treasury in ignoring the law which gave him the option of paying certain obligations in silver and made it imperative that he should redeem at least two forms of currency in silver.

An effective step was taken to bring the entire financial question before the senate, instead of leaving it any longer with the finance committee. Mr. McPherson (dem., N. J.), a member of that committee, moved to discharge the committee from further consideration of the bill of Mr. Sherman to provide a temporary means of meeting deficiencies. This was voted down. A desultory discussion followed.

Mr. Chandler said the present congress promised to be much more extravagant than a "billion dollar congress" and had a hot colloquy with Mr. Harris.

Mr. Gorman said he regretted this party discussion of economy and extravagance should be injected. He reminded Mr. Chandler of the difference between economy and parsimony.

Mr. Platt (rep., Conn.) said party discussions had thus far been withheld by the republican side of the chamber because it had been hoped great financial affairs would be considered by the majority. But that majority was powerless to act on finance.

Mr. Chandler said the total appropriations for the present congress would reach $1,001,000,000, and provoked laughter by his hits at Gorman.

Mr. Allison (rep., Iowa) spoke of the manner the government was running behind in its revenues. It would run behind $10,000,000 during the present month. He continued: "The tariff bill has largely increased the free list and brought in foreign articles with lowered duties. There is therefore ample means of increasing our revenue by a small increase of tariff rates. This should be done instead of drawing from the treasury the reserve to pay current expenses. If a surplus had been maintained the gold reserve would not have been treasured on to meet the treasury notes."

This brought on the financial discussion again. Mr. Gorman said the gold reserve was originally created to redeem greenbacks and blamed the policy of the Harrison administration for the condition of affairs. He said: "In the present grave emergency I do not fear that the senate would be found impotent. It will meet this great emergency. If in no other way it will place on an appropriation bill a provision by which every obligation of this government will be amply met and the honor of the government will be maintained."

After a short passage at arms between Senators Hill and Gorman the financial resolutions were brought forward and agreed to within a few minutes without a word of argument.

The first resolution proposed by Mr. Hill calls on the secretary of the treasury to inform the senate if legislation is necessary or desirable toward the issue of bonds to meet deficiencies in revenue and if so what the substantial features of this legislation should be. This was agreed to on a viva voce vote, only Mr. Allen voting no.

Mr. Allison's resolution calling on the secretary for information as to the amount of the gold reserve used for current expenses and the amount of the proceeds from bonds similarly used was also agreed to with an amendment by Mr. Gorman.

A joint resolution providing for a special election the first Tuesday of October, 1895, to ascertain the will of the people respecting financial matters was introduced by Mr. Peffer. The questions to be submitted to the people are to include: "Shall congress provide for the issue of interest bearing bonds; shall congress provide for the withdrawal of the greenbacks from circulation; shall congress provide for free coinage of gold and silver at the present legal ratio; and shall paper money be issued by the government only."

PLANS TO PREVENT ACTION.

Chandler's Motion to Unseat Martin Thought to Be a Filibuster.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Yesterday's brief filibuster in the senate, which was precipitated by Senator Chandler's motion to declare the seat of Senator Martin of Kansas vacant, is said to be the beginning of the tactics which some of the republican senators have decided upon for the purpose of delaying legislation, and is so recognized by the democrats and so confessed by some of the republicans.

Democrats claim the object is to unseat Martin and Roach and elect republicans in their places. Senator Falkner did not regard the filibuster as a serious matter and said it was intended to temporarily delay matters until the democrats should announce their order of business, which would be done soon.

The agreement as far as reached by the democratic steering committee provides for the prompt consideration of the appropriation bills, for the displacement of the bankruptcy bill after the present week, for taking up the territorial admission bills next week and for their displacement by the pooling bill after two or three days if it becomes apparent the territorial bills can not pass. Democratic senators generally say it has already become apparent the bankruptcy bill can not pass.

Solicitor-General Resigns.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Solicitor-General Maxwell has handed in his resignation. There is a rumor current of dissension in the legal department of the government. Attorney-General Olney and Mr. Maxwell are said to have had a serious disagreement, the constitutionality of the income tax being the bone of contention. Inquiry at the department of justice indicates that in resigning Mr. Maxwell leaves his work cleared up. The Supreme court adjourned yesterday until March 4, and every case before it, in which the government was connected, has been argued by the solicitor-general, that is such cases as came within his line of work.

The concert will be liberally interspersed with music by the College Mandolin club.

The judges are Prof. J. J. Blaisdell, of Beloit; M. G. Jeffris, of Janesville; and Willard Scott, D. D., of Chicago. The students were in high spirits over the first annual Junior Promenade, soon to take place and had made elaborate arrangements for the event, but a thunderbolt was cast among them last night by the announcement that the faculty would not permit the party. The students do not take kindly to this interference of the faculty and it is given out that a party will be held just the same.

The college has lately received two bequests of $1,000 each, one from Mr. Robert Hay, the father of young Mr. Hay who was drowned last June, to be given in prizes of $50 each year for the very best essay on "American Citizenship." It will be known as "The Hay Memorial Prize." The other gift is from Horace White, editor of the New York Evening Post, and is to be used in fixing up the library.

JUROR DYER FAINTS.

May Be Unable to Serve in the Hayward Murder Trial.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Feb. 1.—In the Hayward case yesterday Juror S. H. Dyer fainted just before the session closed in the afternoon. It was reported that his ailment might take a serious turn.

New details were brought out as to Hayward's knowledge that a crime had been committed before any one else suspected such was the case. This was abundantly proved. It was brought out plainly by the state that Hayward made this charge of murder before the police were aware the affair had been other than accidental. It is believed the defense intends to make much of Blixt's confessions and of the behavior of the man since his arrest. Added to this is the belief that an alibi will be attempted for Hayward, an effort to show that at the time Blixt claims he was conversing with Hayward beside the buggy of Catherine Gung he was as a matter of fact in another part of the city. On this latter phase of the defense is placed the greatest reliance. Rumors that the state has evidence of the presence of a confederate with Blixt the night of the murder were rife yesterday, but no evidence to that effect was given.

CHAMPION HARD-LUCK STORY.

He Helped Out His Landlady Who Was Proof Against Whistling.

It so happened that an easy-going young man who lodged in comfortable quarters at so much a week became rather impecunious, a misfortune suffered even by the most extravagant of us, and his cash assets amounted to but $3. While sitting in his room wondering whether he could live on that sum for the balance of the week, and coming to the conclusion that he could, with economy, someone rapped on his door. It was the servant girl and she had with her a lot of perplexity. Would he kindly pay $2.90 on a package left C. O. D. for the landlady, who was out for the afternoon. Of course he would, he said, and the $3 was soon reduced to 10 cents. If he was in sore straits nobody would be the wiser of it. In any event the landlady would pay the money back to him that day and he could still live.

But she didn't because she thought he did not need it, and it could be deducted from his bill at any time. He suffered in silence, with the exception of whistling to attract her attention to his existence, in which he failed. He lived from day to day on small sums borrowed from friends. On pay day he was lined with wealth. Then the thoughtless woman said: "Oh, by the way, I owe you $2.90, and here it is." Such was the experience of a week.

PULLING TOGETHER.

MILTON, Feb. 1.—The union gospel meetings now being held are the great topic of interest here, and all classes of saints and sinners are ringing the changes on this theme. The attendance shows no decrease, and the church, with its two audience rooms thrown together, is well filled, night after night; in fact, the attendance has been larger recently than at any time since the services began. The interest in the meetings is unabating, and the complete harmony that prevails is something rarely seen in Milton. The different denominations seem to have laid aside their creeds, dogmas and isms and are unitedly seeking to better the condition of their fellows. Many who are not in the habit of attending such meetings are present, and people from the country are coming quite regularly. Cottage prayer meetings are of daily occurrence in various parts of the village, and are conducted by both sexes, some of the women being the most untiring workers. Song services precede the meetings at 7 o'clock, and are followed by a sermon from the evangelist, Rev. L. C. Randolph of Chicago, who seems to have a special fitness for this work. The meetings continue every evening next week, except Monday and probably longer. Any who may not have availed themselves of the opportunity, and strangers who may be in town have a cordial invitation to attend the meetings.

At the conclusion of the exercises supper will be served to all those who wish at a reasonable price. All are cordially invited to attend. Frank Owen visited friends in Beloit a part of last week. Mrs. Henry Stevens who has been sick for several days is slowly recovering. Superintendent Ross spent a few days in Madison being called there on business. Miss Maud Wells is seriously ill with throat trouble. The W. C. B. M. met at the residence of Dr. Lacy's on Wednesday afternoon. On account of the sickness and the weather the attendance was unusually small.

DOINGS OF A WEEK AT SHOPPIERE

A fine programme has been prepared, consisting of vocal and instrumental music, and some of our best speakers will address the audience. Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Wright invited their relatives and friends to spend the evening with them on Friday last, but owing to the blizzard and bad roads their company did not arrive until the next night. All present report a good time. An entertainment was held at the Methodist church on Tuesday evening for the benefit of the Nebraska sufferers. A. D. Parker, with his smiling face and jovial ways, is making things lively around town. The newly elected officers of camp 1375 M. W. A. were installed Monday by Oliver Smith of Beloit. Pankhurst is also reported better, she having been seriously ill for several days. T. will have a public installation of officers next Wednesday evening at Lawton's hall. The officials elected for the ensuing quarter, at the regular meeting held last Tuesday evening are as follows: C. T. W. M. Kiebert; V. T., Alice Eldredge; S. J. T., Carrie Phoenix; Chap., A. E. PROTEST FROM ROCK ON TOWN SCHOOLS

SOME PARTS OF THE COUNTY
ANTAGONISTIC.

Clinton Has a District School of High Merit and People Down There Object to Having Any Change Made By the Legislature—Views of a Superintendent.

Some parts of Rock county will protest against the township school system proposed by ex-Superintendent Wells. Superintendent William Ross favors the idea but in a number of districts there is bitter opposition. Clinton is one of the dissatisfied ballistics. The town of Clinton has a school that is better than most of the district schools in the state. Two towns contribute to its support. The people are well satisfied and do not want to be interfered with.

"Mr. Wells' law would be a serious blow to us," said S. S. Northrop of Clinton. "We pay well for our school and consider the money well spent. We want to give the children in our district just as good schooling as they could get in the city, and by having a large district to draw upon we are able to do it. The adoption of the township system would cripple us seriously."

One plea made for the township system is that too many schools are supported. There are 183 districts in the state where the average attendance last year was not more than 5.58 others are not above 10; 2,481 more not exceeding 20. In other words 3,522 country districts, about three-fifths of the total number, have an average attendance not exceeding 20, and about two-fifths above that average with the great majority near the lower margin.

Now Have 600 Useless Schools.

A great saving—in fact the abolition of 600 schools without deterioration of service—is promised. It is also expected that closer attention will be paid to school management if one board has the affairs of a whole town in hand than if the work is scattered among eighteen men. Superintendent Wells said in his final communication:

"Under the town system each sub-district would soon find it to its interest to select its best man as representative upon the town school board. Only thus could it hope to secure good school accommodations with proportionate supplies, as long terms with as capable a teacher, and just consideration in the distribution of benefits and the allotment of burdens. Enlightened self interest would prompt it to continue indefinitely in service, men who had intelligently managed its affairs."

More Convenient Schoolhouses.

"The boundaries of many school districts in their impudent disregard for justice and fair dealing would shame the jagged outlines of any congressional district I ever saw under a political gerrymander. I once knew of a school district in this state which ran irregularly across two townships. Its boundaries looked as if they had been drawn by chain lightning upon the surfaces temporarily tilted, and had then been distorted to serve the purposes of private greed. People in remote parts could attend school in their own district by traveling twelve miles over routes in opposite sides of the township and passing two schoolhouses upon each route."

"Under the township system each family could, within reasonable limits, send its children to the most convenient school. As everyone would pay the school tax into the common town fund, each could ordinarily claim the most accessible school privileges, which are not always furnished by the nearest school."

EAST CENTER WOMAN INJURED

Mrs. Lowry Hurt By a Fall—Charles Wilkie's Fire a Bad One.

EAST CENTER, Feb. 1.—Mrs. David Lowry met with a painful accident on Friday when she fell on a slippery walk fracturing a bone of her knee. It is a very painful injury and it will be some time before she can be about. A fire that brought great loss to Charles Wilkie took place on Saturday night. About midnight the blaze was discovered in the stripping room, which soon spread to the tobacco shed and barn. These buildings were all destroyed together with five horses and seven head of horses; also a quantity of oats, hay and tobacco. The loss is a severe one to Mr. Wilkie, who can ill afford it. Mrs. Charles Crall and little son returned from Shoppiere last week, where they were visiting relatives and friends. Mr. and Mrs. Edson Brown spent Sunday with Mrs. Brown's parents at Cokesville. D. J. Lowry has returned to his home in Boyden, Iowa. Quite a number from this vicinity braved the bad weather and attended the Burns anniversary entertainment and were well repaid for their trouble.

RECEPTION AT THE PARISH HOUSE

Rev. and Mrs. A. H. Barrington Entertained in a Very Pleasant Manner.
An unusually pleasant event was the reception given by Rev. and Mrs. A. H. Barrington at the new Christ church parish house last evening. Two hundred guests responded to the invitations sent them, and after refreshments had been served under the supervision of Misses Alice Ruger, Elizabeth Norcross, Mary Ruger, Elizabeth Schickler, Mary Richardson, Josie Carle, Miss Shumway and Mrs. Frank W. Wheelock, Smith's orchestra furnished music for the dancers. The decorations were very pretty, and the affair was one that the participants will recall with pleasure.

Have been carried by the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern Ry. during the past twenty-five years. Very few were unable to find any fault. The rest were delighted. One of them recently said—"For several years past I have made from two to four trips each month between Chicago and New York and almost always accompanied by one from three or four others. I believe (as I am informed by your conductors), that I have made more trips between Chicago and New York than any other man during the past few years. I have always traveled over your road in preference to any other, because by careful comparisons with others I have found not only that the road itself is far superior, but the table and the service are in every respect the best of any roads I have ever traveled on. The conductors, stewards, waiters and porters I have found to be uniformly courteous and attentive, adding greatly to the comfort of those who are obliged to travel as much as I am. Trains leave Chicago as follows: 3:00 a. m., 10:30 a. m., 3:25 p. m., 5:30 p. m., 8:45 p. m., daily, and 11:30 p. m. daily except Sunday. H. S. Barlow, T. P. If Roastings Will Keep Him Warm He Won't Need to Buy Coal or Wear Ear Bobs—The Sentinel Says That all He Wanted Was Cheap Notoriety.

If "roasts" will keep him warm, Rev. Dr. Eaton won't have to spend much money for coal this winter. There isn't a man in Wisconsin who is getting as much advertising of one sort and another as the former Janesville minister. The Oshkosh Times, the Waukesha Freeman, the Kenosha Gazette, the Eau Claire Leader, the Oshkosh Northwestern and a dozen others beside the Milwaukee papers have referred to his paper on the Charity ball in a more or less pun, ent manner. The Sentinel this morning does not spare him and in a double headed editorial they say:

"At any rate it may be said for Dr. Eaton that there is method in his madness. He calculated nicely the effect of an abusive attack on a large number of respectable citizens. He knew that it would excite indignation and make a great deal of talk of which he would be the principal beneficiary as far as notoriety is concerned. Therefore he imposed no restraint upon himself in dealing with the Charity ball, but wrote what he thought was most likely to bring the best dividends in the shape of notoriety. He very naturally glories in the success of his efforts and proposes to keep himself before the public as long as possible. Hence he announces a sermon to follow up his original slander, and even promises to make good some of his many innuendoes. The prospect is, of course, intended to attract attention to himself again and bring together a large audience.

Cheap Sort of Glory.

"It is likely to have the desired effect as it appeals directly to the pruriency of the community, which is always considerable. But our reverend friend is really doing nothing beyond establishing for himself a reputation as a sensationalist. No one, not even Dr. Eaton himself, takes any stock in the preposterous charges he has made against the people who have participated in the Charity ball. It's a very cheap sort of glory that is obtained by the Eaton method, but there are always some men who hanker after even this sort of glory. That Dr. Eaton will be pleased with this natural effect of his slanderous exaggerations may be safely assumed."

The Sentinel also quotes a paragraph from the LaCrosse Chronicle in which Dr. Eaton's personal affairs are held up to the public view but private matters form no part of the present discussion and should not have been pulled into it. When all things are taken together, however, it may be safe to assume that the good doctor could now take a ton mile sleigh ride without his seal skin cap and still not suffer from cold ears.

FASHIONABLE FRENCH FANCIES.

Velours Antique a New Material—Double Skirts Do Not Become Popular.

Lace, velvet and fur are the characteristics of this winter's fashions. Velvet is especially esteemed, and all the best houses are showing many models of robes and wraps in this material in a great variety of beautiful shades. A kind called velours antique has been brought out, which imitates wonderfully well the short, thin, plushlike nap of old velvet such as is occasionally seen when somebody's store of ancestral or historical costumes, that once figured at court and rout, are exposed to the light of day again.

Bodices of velvet are worn with skirts of silk or wool of an entirely different color, and these decided contrasts are the height of fashion. There are also numerous curious combinations, such as lace, flowers and fur; two kinds of fur, as caracule and astrakhan, or ermine and sable, and chiffon and velvet. When two sorts of fur are employed together, one forms the pelerine, while the other is used for the lining or collar.

A great many fancy muffs are worn. They are very small, but exhibit all the fashionable contrasts seen in costumes. Sometimes they are half of fur and half of velvet. They are trimmed with bows and flowers, a bunch of violets being the favorite floral decoration just now, or a cluster of bright red dahlias.

Sable, otter, astrakhan, silver fox and skunk are the fashionable furs. These are used to trim visiting toilets of thick, fine goods, of which many new models are shown.

The double skirt seems to have retired in despair. None of the up to date costumes shows it, and even evening gowns of light material, where, if anywhere, it would be excusable, continue to hold to the plain bell shape. A picture is given of an evening toilet simple in design, but rich. It is of pale green moire. The skirt forms godets at the back and opens over a tablier of saffron guipure over white satin. The close fitting moire bodice has a guipure vest. The décolletage is square, the upper part of the corsage being gathered on each side under a choux of violet velvet. A bertha of guipure and violet velvet points surrounds the back and shoulders, and large puffed sleeves extend far to the elbow.

FOR CHILDREN'S PARTIES.

Oriental Costumes the Whim of the Hour at Fancy Dress Balls.

The season of fancy dress balls having more or less set in, the latest Parisian notions in the way of fancy costumes may be of interest. There is always a fascination about fantastic attire, whether it be merely because it is out of date or because it is the untrammelled expression of individual taste. There is usually as wide range of choice among children's costumes as among those suitable for grown persons, since children can wear not only any sorts available for men and women, but an infinite variety that would be too unconventional for adults, even at a fancy ball, where convention is more or less relaxed.

There are the usual number of clowns and flower girls, old standbys that are always well represented, but the war be-een China and Japan has developed a mania for the national attire of those two countries which threatens to turn every fancy ballroom into an oriental convention, in which the subjects of the belligerent powers mingle freely under a temporary truce.

Japanese fabrics and costumes are much more familiar to our eyes than those of China and are therefore more easily prepared. All sorts of pretty and inexpensive odds from Japan are to be obtained everywhere—printed cottons and silks, fans and ornaments. For Chinese costumes are dependence must be placed on the delicious use of European fabrics according to models afforded by Chinese pictures. China silk, much of which is Chinese only in name, in stripes or solid colors and gold read, are the materials employed, with in woollens. The first figure in the sketch is a merchant. The skirt is of red silk, ornamented with yellow silk crosses, the tunic of red and yellow striped silk similarly decorated, an embroidered apron finishing the open sleeves. He carries a basket of fruit and wears a cap with a white twist about it. The second figure is that of a Chinese lady. She wears blue silk skirt with a yellow band, a closed tunic of brocade girdled by a sash, and open sleeves of white gauze.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

Not So Deadly as Supposed.

Quite startling is the opinion of Dr. d'Arsouval, expressed in a communication to the Paris Academy of Sciences, that death from the electric current is like that in drowning and is often only apparent. In such cases the treatment should therefore be like that in cases of drowning. He believes that the criminals executed electrically in New York are really alive and die only in the absence of restoratives. He cites the case of a workman in St. Denis who was subjected to 4,500 volts and was restored to consciousness in a short time, although he had been left three-quarters of an hour under the supposition that he was dead. He was restored by artificial respiration.

Destiny of the South.

As things are now in the southern states the man does not live that can make money in farming there. The price of cotton has dropped for a quarter of a century with a regularity that eliminates the element of chance and points to some law of markets that is out of the reach of fertilizers or any device of agriculture. It is this law that the planters are looking for.

There is a fine spirit of scientific discovery abroad in the southern states. If it does not amount to a great intellectual awakening, then the signs that have always attended popular movements do not apply in this instance.

It is the manifest destiny of the south to proclaim some cardinal principles of political economy in the near future. It might seem extravagant to say that the hope of the nation rests with the south, but in these days of political and commercial consternation much more extravagant things are afloat in the prints. In working out the destiny of the south the problem of the nation itself may indeed be solved. There are qualities in the character of the south that will inevitably bring these people to the front. —Donahoe's Magazine.

WHAT AILS YOU?

Do you feel dull, languid, low-spirited, fullness or bloating after eating, tongue coated, bitter or bad taste in mouth, irregular appetite, frequent headaches, "floating specks" before eyes, nervous prostration and drowsiness after meals?

If you have any considerable number of these symptoms, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, associated with Dyspepsia, or Indigestion. The more complicated you diagnose the greater the number of symptoms.

No matter what stage it has reached, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will subdue it. Mrs. MARY MOTT, of Raven Rock, Pleasant Co., W. Va., writes: "Before using your 'Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery' everything I ate would ferment in my stomach, and my tongue was so terribly coated, I thought nothing would remove it. Since taking the 'Golden Medical Discovery,' I can eat a good meal, and enjoy it."

THIS DAY IN HISTORY

- 1532—Edward Coke, famous as lord chief justice, born; died 1632.
 1757—John Philip Kemble, actor, brother of Mrs. Siddons, born in Lancashire; died 1823.
 1801—Titus Coan, famous American missionary in Hawaii and writer on that country, born at Killingworth, Conn.; died in Hawaii 1882.
 1828—George Franklin Edmunds, American jurist and statesman, born at Richmond, Va.
 1873—Commodore Matthew Fontaine Maury, veteran of the Confederate and of the United States navies and author of "The Physical Geography of the Sea," died at Lexington, Va.; born 1806. Maury entered the United States navy in 1825 and soon prepared a work on navigation which became a standard textbook. His work on winds and currents placed him at the head of a new science, and he instituted deep sea soundings, which led him to suggest submarine cables. When the war broke out and he resigned from the government service to go with his state, the event made a profound impression upon the public. He helped organize the Confederate navy and went abroad to make experiments and secure materials for submarine batteries and torpedo mines.
 1876—John Foster, English historian and biographer, died in London; born 1812.
 1878—George Cruikshank, celebrated English caricaturist, died in London; born 1799.
 1888—United States flag raised over the town hall at Honolulu. On Jan. 14 Queen Liliuokalani attempted to promulgate a revolutionary constitution. On the 17th a committee of safety formed a provisional government, calling on the United States authorities for protection. On Feb. 1 Minister Stevens proclaimed a protectorate.

ELBE'S PATH IS NOW 315
 Nearly All on Board the Big Boat Were Lost.

LONDON, Feb. 1.—The officials of the North German Lloyd have given for publication the following figures as the total number of persons on board the Elbe:

"Fifteen first cabin, thirty-one second cabin, two going from Bremen to Southampton, 137 steerage and 149 crew, of which twenty are known to be saved, making a total of 314 lost."

LOWESTOFT, England, Feb. 1.—The horrifying details of the loss of the North German Lloyd steamship Elbe and her human freight are being discussed here by crowds of people gathered at different places where the survivors remain, although a regular blizzard is blowing and, under ordinary circumstances, very few people would have ventured out of doors.

The bitterly cold weather prevailing and the lack of news from any point along the coast show that there is little if any hope of any other survivors of the disaster reaching land.

A life boat supposed to have belonged to the Elbe has been washed ashore near Yarmouth. In the boat were a number of life belts and oars and it is believed to be the boat from which the fishing smack Wild Flower rescued the few persons who escaped from the steamer after the collision of Wednesday morning.

Everybody here is asking his neighbor the same question: "How did it occur?" and nobody seems able to give a satisfactory answer. A handful of the survivors who were clustered around a hotel fire this morning, indulged in the most bitter criticism of the still unknown ship which rammed and sunk the Elbe. All claim that she should have stood by the Elbe and that if she had done so a great many lives would have been saved.

This, of course, is a matter which can not be decided until all the facts in the case are brought to light by the court of inquiry which will look into the matter. The agents of the North German Lloyd company at Southampton have been in constant communication with the German vice consul, who has been upon the spot ever since a short time after the disaster became known. It is not yet definitely established that the Crathie was the offending steamer. There are several interesting points in this distressing story which require definite explanation before all the facts in the case will become generally known.

For instance, there are people who believe that a second steamer may have foundered. They base their opinions on the fact that the Ramsgate lifeboat put to sea Wednesday evening in answer to signals of distress supposed to have come from a steamer. But the lifeboat has not returned and as she got away in a blinding snow storm it is believed that she is lost and that the steamer she attempted to assist also went down.

Then, again, the word "Azonia" is branded on the oars of the boat stranded near Yarmouth, so people say that it could not be the boat from which the Wild Flower rescued the survivors of the Elbe. The name of the "Azonia" is not known in shipping circles here.

The complete list of passengers on the Elbe follows: First cabin—Fritz Appel of Munich; Hugo Becker of Chemnitz; D. Bauman of Berlin; Mrs. M. Connors of South Dakota; Henry N. Castle of Honolulu; Miss Dorothy Castle of Honolulu; Anton Fischer, of Washington; Domingo Furrer, of Guatemala; John F. Gertieher, of Winona, Minn.; Ernst Heren, of New York; Mrs. Klipfel, of Brandenburg; Mrs. Hermoine Sanders, of Falmouth, Mass.; Walter Schnell, of Dueren; Louis Thewett, of Vienna; John B. Vincke of St. Charles, Mo.; Charles Wix of New York; Second cabin, Mrs. Andrew Brishback of Amsterdam, Dr. Dettlerich (return ticket); Jacob Frank of Buffalo, N. Y.,

Istler Goldner of Eperjes, J. H. DOINGS OF A DAY
HERE SUMMED UPHOW A FARM WAS WON AT A GAME OF CINCH.

Dr. H. A. McChesney Entertained a Number of Male Friends at His Office Parlors at Green Bay Last Night—The Comings and Goings of People You Know.

A DISPATCH from Green Bay to the Chicago Herald says: "One of the most interesting cinch parties of the season was given by Dr. H. A. McChesney in his parlors last night, at which were present about forty of the doctor's male friends. To make the party unique and interesting, after the arrival of the guests Dr. McChesney announced that to the most successful cinch player of the evening there would be given as a prize a deed to 120 acres of land in Florence county, Wis., valued at $5,000. With this announcement the guests sat down to tables and the game began. At the conclusion of the contest the fortunate winner of the prize was Henry Rahr, a wealthy brewer of this city. During the evening a mandolin and guitar furnished music. When the games ceased the guests were ushered into the dining hall, where a repast was given, which in point of variety surpassed anything of a like nature ever given in Green Bay. At the conclusion of the luncheon there were speeches, singing, recitations and other pleasantries. A novel feature of the entertainment was that there was no set programme."

BENEATH A BURDEN OF SORROW

Miss Maggie McKelley.

Miss Maggie McKelley died at the county house yesterday morning of hemorrhage. Miss McKelley was highly respected in this city, where she made many friends, while selling articles at the houses. She was tenderly cared for by the matron of the county house in her last illness, and though her life was not one of sunshine and prosperity, she has gone to Him who giveth peace to the troubled, and to the weary rest.

Geraldine Smith.

Little Geraldine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Smith, of Whitewater, died last evening, aged two years. The remains were brought to this city and buried this afternoon in Oak Hill. The little one was a niece of George M. McKelley. Mrs. Smith being Mr. McKelley's sister.

Selling His Boy.

Every man has his price in England as is shown by an advertisement that appeared recently in a newspaper, which read: "A beautiful boy for adoption. Gentleman going abroad. Would give his boy to lady or gentleman for the sum of $300." The society for the prevention of cruelty to children investigated the matter, and found that a farmer who had lost his wife and intended to emigrate was actually trying to dispose of his child.

A Pauper Supports Himself.

The town of Orneville up in Maine tried a queer experiment, the queer part of which was that it was successful. The superintendent of the town farm having run away, and the town having an able-bodied man and his family to support, moved them upon the farm and put them in charge of it. Thus far he has been able to support his family.

REV. WOTTON WRITES ABOUT "THAT BALL"TRINITY'S RECTOR DOES NOT UPHOLD DR. EATON.

"Life is Sad and Hard Enough Without Shutting Out Brightness and Innocent Gayety" he Says—Dr. Eaton Should Confine Himself to That Which Concerns Him.

Rev. W. H. Wotton, rector of Trinity church, sends The Gazette the following communication headed "The Charity Ball."

EDITOR GAZETTE:—I am generally very much averse to airing my personal opinions in print; the multitudinous vagaries of the day seem to thrive on notoriety, and to ignore them is usually the surest and quickest method of decently burying them out of sight. The evil and malicious vituperation which have been recently hurled against the participants in the Charity Ball in Milwaukee, seem, however, to call for loud and decided expression of opinion, and although I always much prefer to take the part of the "under dog," but in this case, as an impartial slancer has been by imputation, placed upon thousands of the most intelligent, refined, and religious of our people, surely it is time to muzzle the slanderer. In brief then:

First. The author of the attack is thoroughly entitled to both his own opinion on this as on any other question, but to endeavor to force his opinion on the world by villainous attacks upon innocent people, is dastardly and criminal.

Second. The body to which he belongs, has a right to legislate for its own government, but to presume to include the church or the world at large under its legislation is an unwarrantable impertinence.

Third. The man whose mother, wife or sister has ever graced a ball room, is compelled to hear the vilest insults heaped on them. Under ordinary circumstances he would horsewhip the villager who dared to utter his nastiness within hearing of their natural defenders.

I might say much more in the same strain but it is not my purpose to enter on a lengthy defense of the dance, there may be, their is possibly some evil connected therewith, so with everything in our present condition. But, I assert it boldly, there is also good there. The King of Heaven thought it not beneath His glory to join the innocent festivities of a Galilean marriage, more, He made wine, yes actual wine, for the guests.

Life is sad enough and hard enough for most of us at best, and we do wrong to shut out such brightness and innocent gayety as may legitimately fall to our lot. Relaxation and recreation is an absolute necessity if we are to do our part in life. I do not for one moment seek to defend, but most emphatically to condemn those who make pleasure the principal aim in life. Let the author of the present slander, and the body to which he belongs, confine themselves strictly to that which concerns them. But the position of the church has ever been and still is this:

"Her Lord placed her in the world as the salt of the earth." Salt to be effectual must mingle with that which it is to preserve and purify. In other words, christian men will carry their christianity with them seven days in every week; in their homes, in their business, and in their pleasures, so shall they purify whatever society they shall come in contact with; so shall they attract by the beauty of their light, and not repel by their gloomy pharisaic hypocrisy and thesis. The aim of true christianity is to brighten and purify life, rather than to make it hideous and forbidding in the eyes of men.

REV. W. H. WOTTON.

Trinity Rector, Feb. 1.

COOPER'S SPEECH A FORCEFUL ONE

Address On the Reilly Funding Bill Called Forth Much Applause.

Representative Cooper, who is a member of the committee on Pacific railroads, occupied the floor of the house for an hour yesterday afternoon in opposition to the Reilly funding bill. Mr. Cooper contended that this was no time, with the present depression in railroad and other business, to compromise with the Pacific road on the plea that it could not pay its debts. The government should foreclose and secure what with the next fifty years would be an interest valuable to the people of the country, and especially valuable to the region traversed by the road. Mr. Cooper's presentation of the subject was conceded to be masterly, and he was frequently interrupted by questions and applause.

Each clerk, assistant and county clerk receives twenty-five per cent. addition to the regular compensation for compiling the statistics.

MANY CALL ON OFFICER KRUSE.

Dr. Horne, However, Thinks That Quiet Would Do Him More Good.

"Officer Kruse must be a very popular man, judging from the many people who have called to see him since he has been housed by paralysis," said Dr. William Horne this morning. "Mr. Kruse is not well enough to see his callers, however, and I would suggest as a friend of his that it would result in more benefit to him if he were allowed to rest quietly."

I called on him today and found that the ringing of a loud toned door bell irritated the sick man a good deal. Mrs. Kruse is somewhat hard of hearing and did not always hear the bell while it bothered the officer, to whom it seemed doubly loud, so I removed it while there this morning. I would also suggest that Mr. Kruse's friends would better serve him, until he recovers somewhat, but allowing him to rest quietly."

JURY FROM BELOIT CAUSED TROUBLE

WHY ANDREW BARTON WASN'T TRIED TODAY.

Jury Wasn't Secured "From the Body of the County" But From Beloit and Attorney Smith Protested—Young McLean Sent to Waukesha—Chickens Stolen.

The case of the state against Andrew Barton, of Evansville, charged with selling liquor without a license, was called in the municipal court this morning for the purpose of drawing a jury. Attorney William Smith, for the defendant, objected to the jury list as filed, on the ground that it was not made from the body of the county, but taken from one locality, the city of Beloit, and for the further reason that the law providing for the drawing of jurors from the body of the county does not provide any method of striking the list or summoning the jury, and cannot be enforced. Therefore he moved to quash the list as drawn. The motion was argued at some length by Attorney Smith and District Attorney Jackson. The district attorney admitted that the jury had been taken from one locality and not from the body of the county, and the court granted the motion to quash, but the case was held open for further consideration.

Young McLean at Waukesha

Irwin McLean, the sixteen year old son of John McLean, of Sharon street, was taken to the state industrial school at Waukesha this morning by Officer Wallace Cochrane. Young McLean was arrested in Chicago charged with having broken into the store of Murwin Brothers, of Fulton, in which the postoffice was located. On being arraigned in the United States court, McLean pleaded guilty and was sentenced to imprisonment for thirteen months, the sentence being suspended so that the lad could be sent to Waukesha instead of to the Milwaukee house of correction. Accordingly he was turned over to the Rock county officers, and brought to this city from Madison. At 4 o'clock yesterday, he was arranged in the municipal court, charged with burglary, and pleaded guilty. Hon. D. F. Sayer of Fulton and the father of the unfortunate boy, testified as to his previous good behavior and Judge Phelps thereupon sentenced the boy to industrial school at Waukesha during his minority, the testimony of Mr. Sayer and John McLean being sent to the superintendent of the school with the commitment.

Stole Forty Chickens.

Chicken and turkey thieves are abroad in the land, and are robbing poultry houses without reserve. Charles Tolp, who resides near the "Four-mile bridge," lost forty fine bred chickens this week, and is extremely anxious to find the thief. A number of farmers report the loss of turkeys and chickens, but none have lost their entire flocks before the raid on Mr. Tolp.

Wardner gave a tea party for Paul Johnson last Wednesday evening, it being his twentieth birthday. It was a surprise to Paul. The invited guests were Lester Babcock, Herbert Van Horn and Will Davis. Mrs. W. H. Morgan visited Milwaukee last Friday. The L. O. G. T. of this place, have received invitations to Indian Ford and Fort Atkinson next Sunday night. They voted to visit the Ford lodge.

Mr. Coon belongs to the Salvation Army. There has been a large number of "porkers" marketed here the past week. Lots of coal and wood sold; also lots of other articles. Addie Randall has been quite sick the past week. Ruby Carr is also sick at the residence of Albert Maxson. The next Seventh Day Baptist social will be held with Deacon Frank Wells. SOME WELL KNOWN FACES

His companions in this difficult and dangerous journey will be two Indian guides, who know little more about parts of the wilderness than he does, and eight dogs, which will draw his sleds. The explorers will travel the entire distance of about 2,000 miles on snowshoes and expect to subsist mainly upon the game they bring down with their rifles.

long, 28 feet wide and 24 feet high, and there isn't a stone used in its construction that weighs less than 16 tons. The floor is a single 40 ton stone, which extends 16 feet underground.

Monument to General Montgomery.

General Richard Montgomery, the gallant Irish-American officer who fell while leading the assault of the continental troops upon Quebec Dec. 31, 1775, is again to be honored by his grateful countrymen. The plain black and white board on the face of the rock below Quebec citadel bears the simple inscription, "Here Major RICHARD MONTGOMERY General Montgomery fell Dec. 31, 1775," but it will probably soon give way to a handsome monument that is now being planned by the Montgomery guards of Boston and other patriotic Americans and will be erected by the courtesy of the people of Quebec.

Special Tax Notice.

State of Wisconsin, county of Rock, ss. Jan. 16, 1895. To whom it may concern. I hereby give notice that I intend to make application to the circuit court for the county of Rock on the first day of the January term to be held in the court room in the city of Janesville on the 28th January 1895, at 10 o'clock a. m. of that day or as soon thereafter as the same can be heard for a judgment against the several lots, lands, pieces and parcels of lands described in a report there and then to be made and filed with the clerk of said court for the unpaid special taxes for paving East and West Milwaukee, streets levied by the common council of the city of Janesville in the year 1894, and all persons interested therein are requested to attend such term of said court and offer their defense, if any they may have, to such application.

Poor Indeed!

The prospect of relief from drastic cathartics for persons troubled with constipation is, indeed, true. True they act upon the bowels, but this they do with violence, and their operation tends to weaken the intestines, and is prejudicial to the stomach. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is an effective laxative, but it neither gripes nor enfeebles. Furthermore, it promotes digestion and a regular action of the liver and the kidneys. It is an efficient barrier against and remedy for malarial complaints and rheumatism, and is of great benefit to the weak, nervous and aged. As a medicinal stimulant it cannot be surpassed. Physicians cordially recommend it, and its professional endorsement is fully borne out by popular experience. Appetite and sleep are both improved by this agreeable purgative and alternative.

"Nothing Venture, Nothing Have."

Rev. John Reid, Jr., of Great Falls, Mon., recommended Ely's Cream Balm to me. I can emphasize his statement, "It is a positive cure for catarrh if used as directed."—Rev. Francis W. Poole, Pastor Central Pres. Church, Helena, Mon.

It is the medicine above all others for catarrh, and is worth its weight in gold. I can use Ely's Cream Balm with safety and it does all that is claimed for it.—B. W. Sperry, Hartford, Conn.

Generalized Too Much.

The French are a witty race but French servants are reported to be the most stupid in the world. It is of a person of that race that this story is told.

Justine was reproved by her mistress for bringing home lobsters that were not fresh.

"You must positively not get any lobsters, Justine," said her mistress, "unless they are alive."

The servant took the injunction deeply into her consciousness. A few days afterward her mistress sent her to get some cheese.

We have created quite a movement in blankets. This is the time when good warm blankets are a necessity. The activity in our blanket department is all owing to the lively interest we are taking in reducing our stock by reducing figures to a smallness that is attracting the blanket buying public of this city

SEE the $2.79 heavy wool ones in our south window.

SEE the extra heavy and fine cotton blankets that we are letting out at $1.25 a pair.

SEE the sanitary, extra heavy, soft colored Blankets—light brown—at $2.50 a pair.

We have about 219 blankets in our stock, and if low prices mean anything we will not have many left by spring.

SHOE . .

For the feet of Janesville and Rock county. Easy to wear—easy to buy—in such late styles as the Razor Toe, with wing tips; also narrow square and many other styles; see them in our show window, they look much like the shoes you have been paying $4 and $5 for—but they are not; they are better quality. Inspection will prove it, and we are selling them for $2.50. Why not study economy in shoes?
